American Heritage School and the Utah Symphony have partnered with the Deer Valley® Music Festival to present the Lyceum Music Festival 2009. This festival is a rare opportunity for young musicians to get a sneak peek into the professional world of classical music and be mentored by positive role models who inspire, encourage, and guide each participant along their own musical path.

String, Wind, Brass and Percussion students ages 13 to 18 prepare a professional level concert with the help of Utah Symphony Conductors, musicians, chamber coaches and special guests including The 5 Browns and acclaimed violinist Bryan Hernandez-Luch.

The American Heritage Lyceum Music Festival is the perfect musical environment to encourage and ennoble the next generation of musicians. Students get to know, rehearse and perform with young stars of classical music like The 5 Browns and Associate Conductor of the Utah Symphony, David Cho. They go behind the scenes at Utah Symphony Orchestra rehearsals and concerts to see what it's like to be a career musician. Participants experience chamber music by working with emerging professional string quartets, learn the masterworks of the repertory from Utah Symphony string, wind and percussion players, and prepare their own concert. Participants enjoy daily opportunities for supervised recreation in scenic Park City, tickets to 3 Deer Valley Music Festival Concerts, as well as private performances and Q&A time with renowned violinist Anne Akiko Meyers and piano sensation The 5 Browns. Getting an inside track to a career in music has never been so much fun!
